

The union big shots are trying to give Senator Bill Fulbright a bad time over a reform bill with which he aims to straighten out some of the monkey-business that has been going on between the Secretary of Labor and the head men of the dues-collecting profession.

Fulbright proposes to amend the Walsh-Healey Act and union politicians are furious. As you read in a Washington AP dispatch in this paper yesterday the Walsh-Healey Act permits the Secretary of Labor to require contractors on government jobs to pay the prevailing wage for a given type of work in a given locality.

However, the Secretary of Labor has been playing fast and loose with the taxpayers' money and greasing his political cohorts with the choice definition of "locality." The honorable Secretary reads "locality" to mean "regional" or even "national" — the higher the better, and that suits the collectors of union dues just fine.

But Senator Fulbright's new bill would clip the honorable Secretary's discretionary authority. It would require him to interpret the word "locality" to mean just what the dictionary says it means — the community in which a plant is located.

That was the intention of congress — but our worthy Secretary found that by going to great lengths of illiteracy he could make political hay with the Treasury pitchfork. Now Fulbright demands a reckoning — and the union chiefs are mad.

Yesterday's Washington story reported that James B. Carey, secretary-treasurer of the CIO, said Fulbright's reform bill is backed by "big business."

That's a monumental piece of arrogance. These are government contracts we are talking about. The whole bill is footed by taxation. Carey is getting a "cut" on every dollar of this tax money — and squawking because someone has the courage to demand an honest set of books.

Two thoughts occur to me: 1. Just how much of our total tax bill is due to the upgrading of wages and prices on government contracts to suit political plans rather than the defense necessity? And (2). What's in the record of Mr. Carey's CIO to show it has any interest in war production other than to rob the rest of the population in a moment of foreign crisis?

If this is tough language, we are talking about tough characters. They don't like the press — and they don't like senators who, in Bill Fulbright's fashion, want to know how the accounts were juggled and where the money went.

From the CIO secretary's anguished screams I'd guess a new scandal is just around the corner — and the same Arkansas senator who built a fire under the million-dollar babies of the RFC can take care of himself in any collision with Carey's gold-brickers.

... And This Young Buck Spent the Rest of the Night at the Hope Police Station

Policeman B. E. (Happy) Dunn and 2-weeks-old buck fawn. When Jade Quillin, contract log hauler, West Sixth st., Hope cut down a tree near Red lake Tuesday afternoon the usual silence after the crash of falling timber was disturbed by a faint whimper. Coming closer Mr. Quillin found a baby deer, apparently near death.

The timberman picked up the small animal, put it in his truck and started to town to report the out-of-season death. But Mr. Deer, Jr., was by no means dead. Actually he was completely unhurt — except for the mental anguish of being too close to falling timber.

Mr. Quillin looked up Game Warden Earl Barham, and later brought the baby deer — huge ears, spots, and beguiling eyes — to the Hope police station. Night Chief Alvin Willis and Patrolman T. L. Compton and B. E. (Happy) Dunn got a nursing bottle full of warm milk and went to work on their customer.

Pretty soon the infant was following the cops all around the station like a wobbly puppy. They put him up for the night in the back room — and pondered the eternal question of what to do with a fellow too young to go back to the woods alone.

In three days Tecon Construction Company of Dallas, Texas has completed resurfacing approximately sixteen blocks in the downtown section of Hope with the total cost running about $18,000.

Wednesday morning the same firm started recoating Highway 67 through the city, this being financed by the Arkansas Highway Department.

The two-inch resurfacing was done with a hot-mix type of asphalt the same as being used on Highway 67 from Hope to Fulton. This replaces the old Warrenite surface laid about 1928, which was worn away under constant traffic. The cost then was estimated at about $28,000.

The City paid $10 a ton for the asphalt, a price made solely because a hot-mix asphalt plant is already here on the Highway 67 paving. If such a plant was brought in just for the city job the asphalt would have cost about $30 a ton.

"I would like to point out that the $18,000 spent for this paving is being paid for by the city and county."

Politics in Grain Deal, Aiken Charges

Washington, May 21 (AP) — Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) charged today political manipulators forced grain prices down a billion dollars in 1948 and declared "They're not going to do it again this year if I can stop it."

Aiken was carrying along his attack on Secretary of Agriculture Brannan as the cabinet officer began testifying before the Senate Agriculture Committee to reply to criticism of his department.

Brannan brought on Aiken's outburst by charging that some of the difficulties of his department with grain storage were caused by limitations which he said Congress put in the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) Charter Act in 1948.

He said these prevented his department from taking effective action to expand storage facilities for under 1948 crops it had to buy up under the farm price support laws.

Aiken, who headed the Senate Agriculture group in 1948 in the Republican-controlled 80th Congress immediately declared Brannan had given an entirely erroneous view of the 1948 law.

PSC Refuses New Telephone Rate Increase

Little Rock, May 21 (AP) — The Arkansas Public Service Commission today refused to allow Southwestern Bell Telephone Company to put a proposed new rate increase into effect even under bond.

The Commission, in a formal order, said it was refusing to approve a proposed schedule for a 1.9 million-dollar annual rate increase because final disposition of a previous rate increase was pending.

The proposed new increase would be in addition to $3,177,000 boost already approved by the Arkansas Supreme Court. This hike was less than the company sought and has charged. A method of refunding the difference must be worked out.

The Commission said that neither it nor the company has any experience as to earnings under the former schedule and that it would be "against the public interest" to allow the new increase at this time.

A $500,000 indemnity bond was pre-offered by the company yesterday to guarantee refunds to subscribers if it should be determined finally that the company was not entitled to an increase or was entitled to a lesser increase than asked.

Attorneys for Southwestern Bell declined to say whether they would seek a court order requiring the Commission to approve the bond and allow the company to place the proposed second increase into effect immediately.

State law specifies that a utility may place proposed rate increases into effect on filing of a bond. The law also says, however, that the Commission has authority to pass on the bond.

Senate Vote Clears Way for McGranery

Washington, May 21 (AP) — A 52-18 Senate vote cleared the way for James P. McGranery to walk into the Justice Department today and take over as the boss.

The Senate last night confirmed President Truman's nomination of the 56-year-old Philadelphia jurist to succeed J. Howard McGrath as attorney general.

All votes against the appointment were cast by Republicans, but 14 other Republicans joined 38 Democrats in voting for it.

Pennsylvania's two Republican senators, Duff and Martin, were among those voting approval.

McGranery, a former House member, has been a federal judge in the Eastern District of Pennsylvania since 1946. During the war he served as the No. 2 official in the Justice Department, as assistant to the attorney general.

Truman sent his nomination to the Senate April 3 in a lightning aftermath to McGrath's resignation after firing Newbold Morris as

Another Riot Hits Koje Prison, Senators Seek Story From Ridgway

U. S. Shocked General Told; Reds Use Riots

Washington, May 21 (AP) — Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said today there has been a "progressive increase" in Russian Far East military strength in the past 12 months and that he considers this Soviet buildup "significant."

The former United Nations Supreme Commander in the Far East told a news conference that the Russians have been developing new airfields extensively and improving old ones in the area. He also said the Russians are converting practically all of their fighter planes from propeller to jet types.

Ridgway, en route to Paris to succeed Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as Supreme Allied Commander in Europe, also said that the Communist forces in Korea now have a "great potential" at any time in the past.

The queries were fired at the former U. N. commander in the Far East commander in the Far East behind closed doors but Senator Russell (D-Ga.), presiding at the session, sent reporters a copy of a statement he made.

In the statement, Russell congratulated Ridgway "for the magnificent job you have performed as a leader of our fighting men in a grim and bloody war," but used such words as "bawling" and "shocking" in reference to the "kidnapping" of a U. S. general by Communist prisoners on Koje Island.

60,000 Oil Workers Still Out on Strike

Denver, May 21 (AP) — Major segments of the nation's oil industry remained closed down today as an estimated 60,000 workers refused to ratify or failed to reach back-to-work agreements.

Scattered settlements were reported, mostly among small locals. O. A. Knight, president of the CIO Oil Workers International Union, estimated that only about one-third of the 90,000 refinery and pipeline workers who walked out April 30 have returned to their jobs.

He predicted that nearly all the strikers would be back by the end of this week.

However, talks between the CIO union and the Tide Water Association in San Francisco broke off last night with a statement by union representative Verlin McKendree that "if this is an indication of the attitude of the association, we will not return to work."

By HAL BOYLE

New York, May 21 (AP) — In making out your will did you ever consider leaving anything to a bus driver?

Every boy at some time wants to be a locomotive engineer. The airplane pilot is one of the most glamorous men of the age.

But who ever made a hero of the bus driver? Nobody but his wife, his kids and his dear old mother.

And yet he carries more people safely on more important missions, year in and year out, than any other figure in transportation.

And he has by far the hardest task. A train rides on its own rails and switchmen give it a fast, clear track. An airplane follows a steady beam through the skies. But a bus driver threads a devious path through the most clogged traffic in history.

Potential death whizzes by every moment... rumbling trucks... roaring motorists... a cable trying to beat the light. And the passengers somehow still feel more secure than if they were on a train or a plane.

They have a great blind faith the bus driver will deliver them intact to their destination. He almost always does — day after day. How he does it is one of the marvels of our times. Who among us has to show as much skill while under so many pressures? The miracle is that anyone can be found who can manage — all at the same time — to steer a lumbering vehicle through a busy street, make change, hand out transfers, pick up a dropped dime, keep an eye out for children darting from the sidewalks and explain to a querulous lady why it really isn't his fault if she caught the wrong bus.

With all that horsepower under his hands the bus driver risk a lot of harm, none in his neck. Yet he has more afflictions than any other man on the street.

Ridgway Tells of Russian Military Buildup in East

Washington, May 21 (UP) — Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said today there has been a "progressive increase" in Russian Far East military strength in the past 12 months and that he considers this Soviet buildup "significant."

Screen Actor John Garfield Found Dead

New York, May 21 (UP) — Actor John Garfield, an East Side problem child who became famous as a tough-talking actor of stage and screen, was found dead today in an actress' apartment facing aristocratic Gramercy Park.

He was 39 years old. A doctor called to the apartment shortly after 10 a. m. found that Garfield had died of a "cardiac condition."

Police who investigated his death in the apartment of Iris Whitney, an interpretive dancer as well as an actress, said Garfield went to the apartment last night.

Shortly after he arrived he complained of feeling ill and Miss Whitney had suggested he lie down on a couch, police added.

Miss Whitney told police that when she tried to wake him this morning he did not respond. She called Dr. Charles W. Nammack, who pronounced him dead.

A surgeon from the medical examiner's office went to the apartment. He reported there was nothing wrong with the body.

One Killed as Uprising Is Quickly Quelled

Koje Island, Korea, May 21 (AP) — A Chinese prisoner was killed in an Allied guard Saturday in the third prisoner of war incident reported in a four-day span on the riot-ridden rock.

The other two occurred at a woman's POW camp and a prisoner's hospital.

The shooting of the Chinese prisoner-announced only today — was the first fatality reported from the tough Koje stockade since Brig. Gen. Maydon L. Bolner took command a week ago.

Bolner said a preliminary investigation indicated the prisoner was shot when he resisted search on his return from a work detail outside an enclosure holding 8,000 Chinese Communists.

The U. S. Eighth Army at Seoul today said combat-wise American infantrymen used concussion grenades and a show of force to put down violence yesterday at a Pusan POW hospital.

Jury Verdict Favors Hope Car Dealer

Toxarkana — A federal jury Tuesday decided part of $15,000 action in favor of a Hope car dealer. The remainder of the case will be decided by Judge Harry J. Lemley.

The jury returned a question in which they decided two points of the action brought by the Mosler Acceptance company against Beverly Johnson, Hope used car dealer.

Johnson's attorney, W. S. Aiken of Hope, said the repossession was taken when checks signed by the purchaser, H. T. Hermanson, car dealer, returned marked "insufficient funds."

The jury Tuesday said that the instance of three cars. Cars, which they believed the Mosler firm had some idea that the cars were unpaid for when mortgage papers were issued.

Judge Lemley will decide remaining features of the case. Attorneys for all sides were notified to submit briefs and appear to argue the case in June.

Says Fulbright Bill Backed by Big Business

Washington, May 20 (AP) — CIO Secretary-Treasurer James B. Carey charged yesterday that a bill before the Senate Banking committee, sponsored by Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) is backed by "big business."

Fulbright's bill would make changes in the Walsh-Henley Act, which concerns wages and working conditions in plants under government contracts.

Specifically naming the Westinghouse Electric Corporation in his argument to the Banking committee, Carey said that "big business" desires to hold down southern wages. Shortly before Carey testified, the committee voted 7-6 against turning the bill over to the Senate Labor committee.

Under present law, the Secretary of Labor can require that contractors on government jobs pay wages equal to the prevailing wage for that type of work in the locality.

Fulbright's bill would require that the labor department interpret the word "locality" to mean the community in which a plant is located rather than on the national or regional level.

Carey quoted from a letter he said was written by Ralph Stuart, a Westinghouse vice president, which he said threatened curtailment of Westinghouse expansion in the South unless the company is permitted to establish a wage structure in its southern plants lower than its northern plant wages.

Youth Dead in Chasm When Rescuers find

Spirit Lake, Wash., May 20 (AP) — Rescuers pushed on a mountain path last night as a grief-stricken clergyman intoned the last rites of the church over the body of his son who died in an icy crevasse high on Mt. St. Helens.

The youth-20-year-old Arthur Jessett, slipped into the narrow chasm at the mountain's 8,000 foot level while on climbing trip with three companions Sunday.

He lived a number of hours talking to his companions as the slipping ice eased him deeper and deeper into the crevasse. Meanwhile, climbers fought frantically to rescue him.

Later yesterday, expert mountain climbers were lowered 75 feet into the frigid tomb and recovered the young University of Washington student's body.

The father, the Rev. Thomas E. Jessett, met the somber party as it descended through fog and rain to this mountain lake in Southwest Washington.

He opened the Episcopal Book of Common Prayer and read in a strained voice:

"Into thy hands, O merciful Savior, we commend the soul of this thy servant, now departed from this body."

Then the father dropped to his knees, faced the sky and cried: "My son! My son! My son!"

He rose and shook hands with each of the eight ski patrolmen who had recovered the body.

Two of the rescuers, Jim and Louis Whitaker, twin brothers from Seattle, had been lowered by ropes into the crevasse. They said the body was wedged tightly between the walls of ice.

"They cut the ice away and the body was raised by ropes," Dr. Otto Trott, who was with the ski patrol party, said the boy had been dead about 12 hours. He died of exposure.

Young Jessett apparently had been able to break his fall only 35 feet beneath the surface snow. But he had the only rope in the student party with him, making immediate rescue impossible. As his companions desperately sought aid, he sank lower and lower.

AFL-CIO Start Annual Battle

Boston, May 20 (AP) — A CIO-AFL battle for members was under way today as George Baldanzi, former CIO official who bolted to the AFL, announced his organization will throw all its resources into a drive to organize Southern textile workers.

Baldanzi, former vice president of the CIO Textile Workers Union, switched to the AFL United Textile Workers yesterday and said he hopes to bring 100,000 CIO members into the AFL fold.

The switch by Baldanzi stemmed from a recent convention battle in Cleveland, where Emil Rieve defeated him for the presidency of the CIO-TWU. That culminated a long dispute between Baldanzi and Rieve over executive and organizational matters.

Baldanzi, appointed AFL union's director of the national textile organization, said that 53,000 already have shifted from the CIO to the AFL in New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Connecticut, the Carolinas and Virginia.

Rieve said that his union has contracts with various mills and that even if workers secede, the union intends to stick by its agreements.

No Change in Cigarette Price in State

Little Rock, May 20 (AP) — The Office of Price Stabilization says Arkansas smokers are not to get a price reduction on cigarettes.

The revised order, released yesterday, said that Arkansas cigarette dealers may continue to use prices fixed by the state's so-called fair trade law.

A former OPS decision last February, which would have reduced cigarette prices by two or three cents per package, called for a nationwide roll-back of the prices to June, 1950 levels — state laws notwithstanding.

An Arkansas state law—the Cigarette Sales Act of 1951—pegged cigarette prices at 6 per cent above the basic cost to retailers.

The revised OPS order said it would allow Arkansas dealers to sell at the state's minimum because: (1) It would have no substantial inflationary effect; (2) the

The 2nd Lion Oil Teacher-Essay Contest

was judged by the following staff members of Mississippi State College: Dr. Fred T. Mitchell, President; Drs. Herbert Drennon and Robert Holland; both of the English Department. The essay topic was, "How I Can Best Prepare My Students For The Future."

Bedecked with flowers presented by friends and faculty, English-teacher Bertha Tillar of Tillar (Ark.) High School receives her $1200-award from M. R. Springer, executive representing Lion Oil Scholarship Fund. School Supt. C. C. Stuart looks on.

Lion Oil executive F. M. Rider, representing the Scholarship Fund, presents Decatur (Ala.) High School teacher Sara Liston Long with her $1200-award in a special ceremony presided over by Principal W. H. Jenkins.

... Mrs. Tillar Wrote From Pride

Mrs. Bertha T. Tillar believes in practicing what she teaches. So when 67 of her pupils entered Lion Oil essay contests, she entered, too, and set a winning example.

For Mrs. Tillar feels that teachers "must plant precious seeds that develop boys and girls into well-rounded, self-supporting citizens." And she writes of the need . . . "to stimulate minds . . . radiate moral, physical and mental values that fit pupils for life."

In 90 tragic days in 1931, Bertha Tillar lost husband, father, and home; and she started teaching to "hold home and family together." She calls the Lion Oil Fund "the most inspiring plan I have ever seen," and plans to use her $1200-award to obtain a Master's Degree in Creative Writing so that she may go ahead with a history of Desha County, Ark., a project she has planned for years.

Biology-teacher Buckhalter Linked Science and Religion

In Piney Woods (Miss.) School, Science-teacher Gertrude Buckhalter was teaching class when the good news came. Tuskegee Institute graduate Buckhalter also attended Southern Illinois University, where she received a B. S. in Education. With the help of her full-year, $1200 Lion Oil Scholarship she plans to obtain a Master's Degree in Biology.

Here are some words and thoughts that made her entry in the 2nd Teacher-Essay Contest an award winner. "Students should bear in mind—and believe—that all honest work is honorable work . . . that whatever the task may be, it be done with efficiency." And she concludes: "With faith in God . . . in education . . . in the future . . . students can lift their heads and triumphantly march forward."

Education . . . a forward step in the March of Southern Progress . . .

It is a real privilege for all of us with Lion Oil to see the real and sincere interest shown by our Southern friends and neighbors in the student and teacher-essay contests.

For it shows a deep-rooted desire for advancement of our Southern states . . . the homeland of us all.

Senator Fulbright and the Mad Men
From the CIO
Today's Quotation
Men make laws, women make manners.
— Guibert

The union big shots are trying to give Senator Bill Fulbright a bad time over a reform bill with which he aims to straighten out some of the monkey-business that has been going on between the Secretary of Labor and the head men of the dues-collecting profession.

Fulbright proposes to amend the Walsh-Healey Act — and union politicians are furious. As you read in a Washington AP dispatch in this paper yesterday the Secretary of Labor to require contractors on government jobs to pay the prevailing wage for a given type of work in a given locality.

However, the Secretary of Labor has been playing fast and loose with the taxpayers' money and greasing his political cohorts with the choice definition of "locality."

The Honorable Secretary reads "locality" to mean "regional" or even "national" — the higher the better, and that suits the collectors of union dues just fine.

But Senator Fulbright's new bill would clip the Honorable Secretary's discretionary authority. If would require him to interpret the word "locality" to mean just what the dictionary says it means — the community in which a plant is located.

That was the intention of Congress — but our Worthy Secretary found that by going to great lengths of illiteracy he could make political hay with the Treasury pickpocket. Now Fulbright demands a reckoning — and the union chiefs are mad.

Yesterday's Washington story reported that James B. Carey, secretary-treasurer of the CIO, said Fulbright's reform bill is backed by "big business."

That's a monumental piece of arrogance. These are government contracts we are talking about. The whole bill is footed by taxation. Carey is getting a "cut" on every dollar of this tax money — and squawking because someone has the courage to demand an honest set of books.

Two thoughts occur to me: 1. Just how much of our total tax bill is due to the upgrading of wages and prices on government contracts to suit political plans rather than the defense necessity?

And (2), What's in the record of Mr. Carey's CIO to show it has any interest in war production other than to rob the rest of the population in a moment of foreign crisis?

If this is tough language, we are talking about tough characters. They don't like the press — and they don't like senators who, in Bill Fulbright's fashion, want to know how the accounts were juggled and where the money went.

From the CIO secretary's anguished screams I'd guess a new scandal is just around the corner — and the same Arkansas senator who built a fire under the million-dollar babies of the RFC can take care of himself in any collision with Carey's gold-brickers.

Policeman B. E. (Happy) Dunn and 2-week-old buck fawn. When Jude Quillin, contract log hauler, West Sixth st., Hope, cut down a tree near Red lake Tuesday afternoon the faint silence after the crash of falling timber was disturbed by a faint whimper. Coming closer Mr. Quillin found a baby deer, apparently near death.
The timberman picked up the small animal, put it in his truck and started to town to report the out-of-season death. But Mr. Deer, Jr., was by no means dead. Actually he was completely unhurt — except for the mental anguish of being too close to falling timber.
Mr. Quillin looked up Game Warden Earl Barham, and later brought the baby deer — huge ears, spots, and beguiling eyes — to the Hope police station. Night Chief Alvin Willis and Patrolmen T. L. Compton and B. E. (Happy) Dunn got a nursing bottle full of warm milk and went to work in their customer.
Pretty soon the infant was following the cops all around the station like a wobbly puppy. They put him up for the night in the back room — and pondered the eternal question of what to do with a fellow too young to go back to the woods alone.

In three days Tecon Construction Company of Dallas, Texas has completed resurfacing approximately sixteen blocks in the downtown section of Hope with the total cost running about $18,000.
Wednesday morning the same firm started recoating Highway 67 through the city, this being financed by the Arkansas Highway Department.

The two-inch resurfacing was done with a hot-mix type of asphalt, a price made solely because a hot-mix asphalt plant is already here on the Highway 67 paving. If such a plant was brought in just for the city job the asphalt would have cost about $30 a ton.

PSC Refuses New Telephone Rate Increase

Little Rock, May 21 (AP) — The Arkansas Public Service Commission today refused to allow Southwestern Bell Telephone Company to put a proposed new rate increase into effect even under bond.

The Commission, in a formal order, said it was refusing to approve a proposed schedule for a 1.0 million-dollar annual rate increase because final disposition of a previous rate increase was pending.

The proposed new increase would be in addition to $3,177,000 boost already approved by the Arkansas Supreme Court. This hike was less than the company sought and has charging. A method of refunding the difference must be worked out.

The Commission said that neither it nor the company has any experience as to earnings under the former schedule and that it would be "against the public interest" to allow the new increase at this time.

A $500,000 indemnity bond was pre-offered by the company yesterday to guarantee refunds to subscribers if it should be determined finally that the company was not entitled to an increase or was entitled to a lesser increase than asked.

Attorneys for Southwestern Bell declined to say whether they would seek a court order requiring the Commission to approve the bond and allow the company to place the proposed second increase into effect immediately.

State law specifies that a utility may place proposed rate increases into effect on filing of a bond. The law also says, however, that the Commission has authority to pass on the bond.

Senate Vote Clears Way for McGranery

Washington, May 21 (AP) — A 52-18 Senate vote cleared the way for James P. McGranery to walk into the Justice Department today and take over as the boss.

The Senate last night confirmed President Truman's nomination of the 56-year-old Philadelphia jurist to succeed J. Howard McGrath as attorney general.

All votes against the appointment were cast by Republicans, but 14 other Republicans joined 38 Democrats in voting for it.

Pennsylvania's two Republican senators, Duff and Martin, were among those voting approval.

McGranery, a former House member, has been a federal judge in the Eastern District of Pennsylvania since 1946. During the war he served as the No. 2 official in the Justice Department, as assistant to the attorney general.

Truman sent his nomination to the Senate April 3 in a lightning aftermath to McGrath's resignation after firing Newbold Morris as attorney general.

Screen Actor John Garfield Found Dead
New York, May 21 (UP) — Actor John Garfield, an East Side problem child who became famous as a tough-talking actor of stage and screen, was found dead today in an actress' apartment facing aristocratic Gramercy Park.

He was 39 years old.
A doctor called to the apartment shortly after 10 a. m. found that Garfield had died of a "cardiac condition."

Police who investigated his death in the apartment of Iris Whitely, an interpretive dancer as well as an actress, said Garfield went to the apartment last night.

Shortly after he arrived he complained of feeling ill, and Miss Whitely had suggested he lie down on a couch, police added.

Miss Whitely told police that when she tried to wake him this morning he did not respond. She called Dr. Charles W. Nammack, who pronounced him dead.

A surgeon from the medical examiner's office went to the apartment. He reported there was nothing.

By HAL BOYLE

New York, May 21 (AP) — In making out your will did you ever consider leaving anything to a bus driver?

Every boy at some time wants to be a locomotive engineer. The airplane pilot is one of the most glamorous men of the age.

But who ever made a hero of the bus driver? Nobody but his wife, his kids and his dear old mother. And yet he carries more people safely on more important missions, year in and year out, than any other figure in transportation.

And he has by far the hardest task. A train rides on its own rails, and switchmen give it a fast, clear track. An airplane follows a steady beam through the skies. But a bus driver threads a devious path through the most clogged traffic in history.

Potential death whizzes by every moment — rumbling trucks — care less motorists. — a cable trying to beat the light. And the passengers somehow still feel more secure than if they were on a train or a plane.

One Killed as Uprising Is Quickly Quelled

Koje Island, Korea, May 21 (AP) — A Chinese prisoner was killed by an Allied guard Saturday in the third prisoner of war incident reported in a four-day span on the riot-ridden rock.

The other two occurred at a woman's POW camp and a prisoner's hospital.

The shooting of the Chinese prisoner-announced only today — was the first fatality reported from the tough Koje stockade since Brig. Gen. Haydon L. Boatner took command a week ago.

Boatner said a preliminary investigation indicated the prisoner was shot when he resisted search on his return from a work detail outside an enclosure holding 5,000 Chinese Communists.

The U. S. Eighth Army at Seoul today said combat-wise American infantrymen used concussion grenades and a show of force to put down violence yesterday at a "Prisoner of War" hospital.

Jury Verdict Favors Hope Car Dealer

Texarkana — A federal jury Tuesday decided part of $18,000 action in favor of a Hope car dealer, the remainder of the case will be decided by Judge Harry J. Campbell.

The jury returned a questionnaire in which they decided two points of the action brought by the Motor Acceptance company against Beverly Johnson, Hope used car dealer.

Johnson's attorney, W. S. Atkin of Hope, said the repossession was taken when checks signed by the purchaser, H. T. Hermanson, car dealer, returned marked "insufficient funds."

The jury Tuesday said that the instance of three cars, Cadillac, that they believed the Mosler firm had some idea that the cars were unpaid for when the mortgage papers were issued.

Judge Lemley will decide remaining features of the case. Attorneys for all sides were notified to submit briefs and prepare to argue the case in June.

American Legion Auxiliary Has Program on Poppies

In reporting the meeting of the District Conference held in Texarkana, Mrs. Morsani quoted Mrs. Clara Coomb, Department Secretary of Little Rock, on the work of the auxiliary members at Fort Root in overseeing the making of the poppies. She said in part "The hospital used to take care of the supervising of the poppy making but they are now so short handed that they had to ask the auxiliary to assume the supervisory capacity. The auxiliary formerly furnished the materials and instructions, paid the veteran for the poppies he made, and sold them to the public. Now volunteer workers of the auxiliary in Little Rock work five days a week with the veterans at Fort Root. The requirements for a worker are a ready smile, patience, and willing hands, but the most important is the smile. After a member has worked one thousand hours, she is awarded a small token of recognition. One member has already accumulated three thousand hours."

Mrs. Coomb also mentioned "Pop" an aged veteran near the 80's who is still interested in poppies and said "You just don't rate at Fort Root's until Pop begins to call you 'Angel'." The veterans refer to the workers as Poppy Ladies. She also told a number of human interest experiences at Fort Root and hopes to have moving pictures made there.

Mrs. E. P. O'Neal gave a short resume of the origin of the Poppy and mentioned that it became the memorial flower of the American Legion at the National Convention held in Cleveland September 27-29, 1920. At first silk poppies were made in France by French widows and orphans. In 1922 the first poppies were produced by American veterans in hospitals in Minnesota, and this work has steadily expanded until the poppies were being made in more than eighty hospitals and disabled veterans work rooms in forty states. The crepe paper poppy was selected as the official poppy because it provided maximum work for the disabled veterans with the minimum expenditure for materials.

Shortages Few But They Keep Up High Cost

By SAM DAWSON

New York, May 21 (AP) — The list of shortages continues to shrink. But their role as villain in keeping the cost of living high is being taken over by rising operating costs.

The prospects of more costly fruits and vegetables is a case in point. Food, by and large is plentiful. But under the Capetown Amendment to the control law grocery wholesalers can now boost prices because their costs of doing business has risen.

The cost of living, however, is easier in many departments — thanks to the deflation of many commodity prices at wholesale level, which is now working into the retail price lists.

As still more commodities come off the shortage shelf, the chances for lower product prices increase — except for that villain, the rising costs of operation at factory, farm, transportation, distribution and retailing levels.

Deonting moves point up this price weakness. Cotton and most textile yarns and fabrics are being set free of price controls. They are already selling well below ceiling prices anyway. And clothing prices are down in the stores. So the consumer may see little change.

Reports from Chicago, where the meat order houses are preparing their fall catalogues, say that prices will average about 10 percent lower than last fall's books. But that means they will be about the same, or slightly lower, than the spring price lists.

Food prices appear to have about leveled off and for a time now should fluctuate with the season and the crop prospects. Chickens and eggs, for example, are selling now far below peak prices. And onions are down sharply at wholesale from a month ago.

Shortages are disappearing fast in the metals field, where they have lasted the longest.

The steel shortage may fade away soon, too. At the meeting here of the American Steel Warehouse Association, President Walter S. Dossy predicts that by the end of the year steel mills will be operating at 85 to 90 percent capacity — unless there's a strike in the meantime to cut off present booming production.

Former Political Leader Is Dead

St. Smith, May 21 (AP) — A former Arkansas political leader, Attorney Thomas Brady Pryor, 83, is dead.

Pryor, a native of Jackson, La., died in a hospital here yesterday. He began his law practice in Greenwood, Ark., in 1893. In 1928, he was chairman of the Arkansas delegation to the Democratic National Convention.

He is survived by his wife, a son and two daughters.

13 MORE CASUALTIES

Washington, May 21 (AP) — The Defense Department today identified 13 Korean War casualties. Of the total, one was dead, 11 wounded and one injured in a battle zone accident.

That two quilts had been delivered to Mrs. Blackwood to be sent to the tornado victims. The quilts were made in the home of Mrs. W. Y. Jackson. Mrs. Hendrix gave the other one. All material was donated except cotton and thread for one of the quilts. The group discussed plans for a tea to be given in July. It will be in the home of Mrs. Adams.

Mrs. Gibson showed a picture that she had made of copper foil. Several ladies said they would like to have their pressure cooker gauges tested in the near future. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. E. J. Taylor.

Pace Warns Mobilization Is Indefinite

West Point, N. Y., May 21 (AP) — Army Secretary Frank Pace says "the current period of partial mobilization may well last indefinitely."

Pace adds that a peacetime army, within our generation, will ever be less than three or four times its prewar size," he told cadets of the United States Military Academy last night.

The Army secretary addressed a dinner raising yesterday's jubilee Convocation, the last major event in West Point's observance of the academy's 150th anniversary.

In an afternoon speech, Truman told the cadets he believed the free world was "well on the way" to preserving its freedom. However, he said "we must also be alert and ready to meet treachery or a renewal of aggression if that should come."

Church Groups Hold Joint Conference

Chicago, May 21 (AP) — Members of the American Baptist Convention and the International Convention of Disciples of Christ held an unprecedented joint meeting for prayers and hymns last night.

The joint session was attended by more than 15,000 persons.

The two groups plan to meet again tonight and in a joint communion service Thursday evening, but their leaders say there are no present plans to unite.

Both groups are holding week-long annual meetings simultaneously so they may have fellowship in several joint sessions.

TV Cable to L. R. Is Being Laid

West Memphis, May 21 (AP) — Installation of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's underground coaxial cable from Memphis to Little Rock is underway near here. The six-tube, 142-mile-long cable, which will cost 4-million dollars, is expected to be completed by the end of the year.

The new cable can be equipped to carry television broadcasts in the event that TV stations are approved for Little Rock. It can carry 600 telephone calls simultaneously.

DOROTHY DIX

Family Obligation

Dear Miss Dix: I have been married for 22 years, and have four children, all boys in their teens. Four years ago I took my husband's parents to live with us; his mother is now 82 and his father 63. No one else wanted them, though there are two other boys, and two girls in the family, in order to support them I want to work, leaving my mother-in-law in charge of the house and children. The house never gets cleaned, or my clothes washed until Saturday when I am off. The grandparents boss the children, who cannot even have company without them in the room. Between the children complaining and all the extra work, I am completely discouraged. On top of everything else, my husband has been going out with my sister.

Should I take the children and leave, letting someone else take care of my in-laws? I have given the children up as far as raising them goes, and I have given up my house due to his parents bossing everything in it. I feel that I have nothing.

MRS. B.H.

Answer: You have been a docile doormat long enough, and no one could possibly blame you for revolting. Walking out of the house with the children may be a drastic step, but it's probably the only way to show your ungrateful family how much you have been doing for them.

Should Have Own Home

The most sensible solution to the problem, in the beginning, would have been to keep the in-laws in their own home, with every one of their children contributing something towards its upkeep.

All children, whether boys or girls, are morally bound to care for their parents; your sisters-in-law are casting off their responsibilities very easily when they tell you the daughters of a family have no obligation. At the ages of 82 and 63, your mother and father are capable (unless they are ill) of caring for a small home of their own. Your place is at home with your own family, caring for them during the day — not working outside the home to ease the burden of your brothers and sisters-in-law. You've been entirely too good to the whole family, and a good jolt will do them no harm.

If the family can't agree to setting the old folks up on their own, the least they can do is take turns caring for them. Two and a half months out of each year wouldn't be too much of a drain on anyone's resources, and is certainly a much more equitable arrangement than having the entire burden on your shoulders. Should both these possibilities fail, take the children and let the family see how well they can manage without you. It won't be long, you may be sure.

A very interesting and informative book called "You and Your Aging Parents" by Edith Stern and Dr. Mabel Ross, has recently been published on this subject. Read it for further light on your own problem.

Dear Miss Dix: For the past year and a half I've been going with a boy and we are really in love. Lately, however, he has begun to drink. I'm sure he'll stop when we're married. He's 20 and Rock, May 20 (AP) — The Public Service Commission today issued regulations for use of water in air conditioning and refrigerating units and for water in air conditioning units.

Under the new regulations, if the increase in the use of these units continues as in recent years, within five years, water will be used for air conditioning units for all purposes.

AP&L Allowed a Quick Tax Writeoff

Washington, May 20 (AP) — Arkansas Power and Light Company will be allowed a quick tax write-off for a portion of construction costs of an electric power project at Stamps, Ark.

The Defense Production Administration certified the project for federal tax benefits yesterday. The utility will be allowed to write-off, in five years 65 per cent of the total 12,750,000 cost of the project.

Ike Says Duty Only Way to Take Office

The Hague, The Netherlands, May 20 (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told the Dutch cabinet today he came to Europe out of a sense of duty and that is the only way he would accept public office in the U. S.

The retiring NATO commander made the statement when he appeared before the cabinet in the last in his series of farewell appearances in European NATO capitals. At the end of the month he returns to the United States, where he is a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Eisenhower made the remark about his candidacy in response to an address by Premier Willem Drees, who said: "You are going home to face an election to find out what fate has in store for you. You have completed successfully your job of laying the ground work (of NATO) and now you aspire to the highest office the United States can bestow."

Eisenhower said he would like to make a correction in the premier's statement.

"I aspire to no public office in the United States and will only accept one out of a sense of duty," he declared. "That sense of duty must be communicated to me by the great political party to which I have given such allegiance as a soldier and."

The commander conferred with Dutch leaders on ways Holland can build a 100,000-man standing army from her present system of reserves.

Later, he drove to the place at Soestdijk and lunched with Queen Juliana and Prince Bernhard. He told them he planned to depart from Paris for the United States the afternoon of May 31.

War Hero Gets 2-Year Sentence

Jonesboro, May 20 (AP) — A 20-year-old three-time winner of the Bronze Star is to serve a 2 year prison term on a federal charge of forgery.

Federal Judge Thomas Trimble set Robert Clyde Dixon's sentence yesterday. Dixon forged his brother-in-law's name to a government check and cashed it in a grocery store here in November, 1950.

Dixon, who was a GI college student, said he had the permit of his brother-in-law, Robert J. Baugh, to cash the check.

Dixon, when arrested at Midland, Tex., had re-enlisted in the army. He won the Bronze Stars during World War II.

The practice of burial in churches or churchyards was unknown to the earliest Christians.

Mediator to Have Try at Oil Strike

El Dorado, May 21 (AP) — A federal mediator was in here today, trying to arrange a meeting between the striking CIO Oil Workers International Union and officials of Lion Oil Company's chemical plant.

The mediator, C. A. Wheeler, said yesterday he would attempt to bring about a meeting of the company and some 250 AFL machinists, also on strike at the plant.

Lion and the CIO union met again yesterday, but Pat Shelton of the union's bargaining committee said no progress was made toward a settlement.

About 600 CIO workers are on strike at the chemical plant for higher wages.

Schools Should Teach of God, Educator Says

Chicago, May 21 (AP) — Dr. M. E. Sadler, president of Texas Christian University, asserted today that any school which does not teach of the existence of God "is actually teaching atheism."

"Our schools have proceeded on the entirely false assumption that if they did not teach religion, they would be neutral," he said.

In a talk prepared for the International Convention of Disciples of Christ, the church that controls Texas Christian University, he said.

"As applied to our education, we have interpreted the great principle of religious freedom to mean freedom from religion, and have permitted the development of an educational system which has produced a secularized, materialized society."

"A system of education which does not teach religion nor strengthen faith in God would have been most displeasing and disquieting to those who wrote our Constitution."

He said that all schools, including tax-supported schools, could emphasize pure religion, voluntarily supported, church-related colleges and universities should lead the way.

Young Escapee Again in Jail

St. Smith, May 20 (AP) — Jacob Alexander Yanke, 20, is lodged again in an Arkansas jail.

Truman to Speak in State July 1

Washington, May 19 (AP) — President Truman has accepted an invitation to speak at dedication ceremonies July 1 for two big power and flood control dams in northwestern Arkansas, the White House advised Rep. Trimble (D-Ark) today.

To be dedicated are the 28 million dollar Norfolk Dam and the 78 million dollar Bull Shoals Dam, both on the White River.

Members of congress from Arkansas and nearby states have been invited to attend.

The Norfolk Dam was completed in 1944 and is supplying power for the Southwestern Power pool. Bull Shoals is to be completed and in operation by the end of the year.

Clergyman Denied Passport to Japan

New York, May 19 (AP) — The State Department has denied a passport to the Rev. Dr. J. Henry Carpenter, a clergyman who had planned to go to Japan to visit Japanese church leaders and talk to youth groups next month.

In Washington, the State Department confirmed the action, and said only that the proposed trip to Japan would not be in the best interests of the United States.

Dr. Carpenter is executive secretary of the Protestant Council of the City of New York and secretary of the Department of the Urban Church of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the USA.

Cancer May Beat Electric Chair

Cummins Prison Farm, May 19 (AP) — Dr. Arch Rollins, the state prison physician, says 62-year-old Rufus H. Green may not live long enough to go to the electric chair on June 7.

Rollins said the convicted killer is suffering from diabetes and cancer of the face.

Green was convicted last month for the fatal shooting of Camden Night Chief of Police Frank Williams.

The doctor said Green's diabetic condition is making the healing of wounds, particularly in a cancerous area, difficult.
